

“Expansion Meets Future Needs”

Springfield, IL – Solomon Colors has recently completed a new 20,000 square foot expansion at their Springfield, Illinois headquarters. The new expansion will be used for packaged finished products. It is also home to the dispenser technicians and dispenser equipment manufacturing facility.

“With the increasing demand for ColorFlo™ Liquid Color we had simply outgrown our previous dispensing equipment production facility. This new facility allows us to have all the department personnel in one building, and gives us ample space for parts inventory and production”, Equipment Shop Manager Ed Harper commented.

Steve Brown, System Support Manager, is excited to have all the “techs” in one location. “Each technician has their own office in addition to our conference room and training facility. I am particularly excited about our working dispenser demo room. This new area will allow us to work with potential customers to demonstrate the full capability of our systems.”

Plans are already in the works for additional building at the corporate headquarters to meet future anticipated growth. It is an exciting time for Solomon Colors as they and their markets experience continued growth.
