Polished Gym

Structure Type: Gym Floor
Project Type: Commercial
Location: China
Products: Lythic Densifier
 Lythic Protector

Overview: This space was designed to be a luxury private gym. The floor needed to withstand high foot traffic, moving equipment, and all of the other hazards faced by a commercial space. It also had to have an attractive, modern appearance that appealed to the upscale clientele at the gym.

The designers found Lythic polishing products to be the best choice to achieve this. Lythic Densifier is a colloidal-silica densifier that reacts quickly without the harmful residues in other metallic densifiers. Lythic Protector uses the same technology to protect the surface, enhances appearance, protects it from staining, and improves traction.
